Mahobe Resources, 2009. Soft cover. Book Condition: New. 1st Edition. 112pp [In stock in Australia, for immediate delivery] . A Lively Junior-High English Class Text . A Charming Senior-High Drama Performance Script . Young writer Will Shakespeare arrives home at his Stratford home to a frosty reception from his wife Anne Hathaway. He is broke but hopes to use some of his company and his son Hamnet to stage a performance of A Midsummer Night's Dream. Hamnet is more into wrestling and hunting than the strange world of boy actors and is most unwilling to play a female on stage. His twin sister Judith and Meg the housekeeper help him out. Will's Twins is a superb play that not only contains a charming but lively class drama text but also contains a number of introductory and post-play language and literature activities. This means minimal preparation work for busy teachers. There are also many opportunities for class involvement in the readings, group activities, and language and literary work of this attractive and practical text. Will's Twins is great for an accessible introduction to the Shakespearean world and as part of themed teaching on fantasy, dream, friendship, imaginary worlds, growing up, and family. And, of course, this is a fully contained unit of work for any junior high or senior high drama course, and has parts for 22 characters. Patrick Spillane is New Zealand's premier school playwright. His plays have a unique, proven teenage voice' and have been widely performed and studied over the last two decades. Animal Fallout based around animal rights and Rosie a Second World War play set in Dunedin (South Island, NZ) have both gone over ten editions. Grace explores the Americanisation of NZ in the 1960s. Spillane's latest play Will's Twins continues his thread of exploring brother & sister...
