How may we most readily distinguish articles, pronouns, prepositions, conjunctions, and interjections How do you distinguish the noun from other parts of speech--the adjective--the verb--the adverb LESSON XXXVI. Parsing. Parsing is the resolving of a sentence into its elements, or parts of speech. Words are parsed two ways; Etymologically, and Syntactically. 1. In etymological parsing, the pupil is required to state the part of speech to which a word belongs, and to describe it by its accidents. 2. In syntactical parsing, the pupil is required, besides parsing the word etymologically, to state its relation to other words in the sentence, and the rules by which these relations are governed. N. B. Before proceeding to Syntax, the pupil should be expert in etymological parsing. This he can hardly fail to be, if he...
